

Reducing Household Waste – Spreading the word

Mark – Spearwood Resident

One of the best things is with three children I figure well I can't change the world but I've got three kids and if they grow up with the right attitude then that's three more people that are doing it. As a family it's brought us closer together and we haven't done it really quickly this has been a few years that we've been doing this so it all started with just a worm farm and separating our recycling and then it was a compost bin and then it was what do I do with the things that don't go into the compost bin so even though it might sound complicated we started very basic and it is much simpler than it sounds. There's lots of great resources, you can google just about anything you can imagine, if you've got something what do I do with it, and one of the other things that my kids have gotten out of it is they'll actually go to school when it's news day or tell a story day and inevitably they'll say guess what we did, so they love that side of it as well.

For more information in this series of videos visit:

www.cockburn.wa.gov.au/WasteEducation