

Introducing Cockburn's GREAT Gang.

This is my great gang here my itty bitty committee. They're the masters of the bin like an ibis in the City.

Gonna teach you their ways like recycling gurus, possess you like voodoo, you'll learn if you choose to.

But all this food and glass and plastic that i'm trying to dispose, how on Earth am I supposed to know where all of this goes?

What a load of rubbish! No really that's quite a lot. When we're finished you'll be feeling like a waste sorting hotshot.

So listen up buttercup, stop your planet destroying, cause the strategies we're employing are anything but boring.

Let us show you the ways of minimising your waste and make Cockburn a green clean and pristine place.
